Jon Heath is a Certified Divorce Real Estate Expert (CDRE™) and is proficient in the sale of real property in family law matters. His extensive experience in working with divorcing families, coupled with over six million dollars in annual real estate sales, support his expertise in the family law arena. Jon also works as a Real Estate Collaborative Specialist – Divorce (RCS-D). As a trained neutral third party, Jon’s background in crisis management, leadership, expertise, and knowledge of real estate allows him to produce the results needed in sensitive and complex real estate transactions in family law. Prior to real estate, Jon served as an ordained minister for 28 years, where he actively counseled church members of his congregation through various life events, including family counsel, parenting and divorce. For the last 12 years, Jon has been a sponsor, facilitator and trainer for DivorceCare, an international support group program assisting participants with the emotional “traumas” associated with divorce and the process toward recovery and healing.
